The Business Committee of the Thirty-first General Synod has recommended this proposed resolution be sent to a Committee of the General Synod.

ON CORPORAL PUNISHMENT OF CHILDREN IN HOMES AND INSTITUTIONS

A Resolution of Witness

Submitted by Bluegrass United Church of Christ, Lexington KY, Indiana-Kentucky Conference, Christ Evangelical United Church of Christ, Louisville KY, Indiana-Kentucky Conference, St. John’s United Church of Christ, Louisville KY, Indiana-Kentucky Conference, Church of the Savior United Church of Christ, Knoxville TN, Southeast Conference, Pilgrim United Church of Christ, Carlsbad CA, California-Nevada Southern Conference and First Congregational Church of Riverside CA, California-Nevada Southern Conference

SUMMARY

This resolution calls for parents and guardians to reject corporal punishment and use other methods to train children. It also calls for state and local governments to prohibit corporal punishment in schools and child-caring facilities.

BIBLICAL, THEOLOGICAL AND ETHICAL RATIONALE

Though some verses in Proverbs are used to justify or even mandate corporal punishment of children, some biblical scholars point out that they were intended to apply only to adolescent boys being educated for adult responsibilities. Christians should look for guidance to the words and actions of Jesus, which consistently uphold the human dignity of the voiceless and marginalized including children. Jesus taught children with love and tenderness and never recommended striking them.

TEXT OF THE MOTION

Whereas Jesus called for society to honor children for “of such is the Kingdom of God,” Luke 18:16

Whereas Jesus said that harming “the least of these my brethren” was an offense against Him, Matthew 25:40

Whereas the United Church of Christ has approved the National Council of Churches’ Social Creed for the 21st Century, which states that “we honor the dignity of every person” as created in the divine image and therefore “commit ourselves to a culture of peace and freedom that embraces non-violence” and “nurtures character,”

Whereas the United Church of Christ is committed to working for a “world safe for children” and “free from violence,” 95-GS-56 Resolution of Witness
Whereas corporal punishment models aggressive behavior as a solution to conflict and sends a message that hitting smaller and weaker people is acceptable,

Whereas corporal punishment is degrading and traumatizing to children and often leads to physical injury,

Whereas corporal punishment may produce short-term compliance but is subsequently less effective, leading frustrated caretakers to inflict more severe forms of punishment,

Whereas some research has associated corporal punishment with chronic depression and increased crime, violence, substance abuse, anxiety and aggression in children and adults,

Whereas children must eventually develop their own conscience and self-discipline, which are fostered by a home environment of respect, trust, love and self-control,

Whereas schools and child-care centers should inspire children to enjoy learning and feel safe and affirmed,

Whereas corporal punishment in schools is disproportionately used on poor children, minorities, children with disabilities, and boys,

Whereas 19 states, including Indiana and Kentucky, allow corporal punishment in schools and child care facilities,

Whereas in the 2013-2014 school year Indiana had 239 cases of corporal punishment and Kentucky had 823,

Whereas the Churches’ Network for Non-violence, Global Initiative to End All Corporal Punishment of Children, United Methodist Church, and Presbyterian Church USA oppose corporal punishment,

Therefore be it resolved that the Thirty First General Synod of the United Church of Christ calls upon parents to use methods of discipline other than corporal punishment;

Be it further resolved that the Thirty First General Synod of the United Church of Christ calls upon member churches to make resources available on Christian parenting without corporal punishment;

Be it further resolved that the Thirty First General Synod of the United Church of Christ calls for state and local governments to prohibit corporal punishment in school and child-caring facilities.
